

What is the Acupuncture?

Acupuncture is the practice of penetrating the skin with thin, solid, metallic needles which are then activated through gentle and specific movements of the practitioner's hands or with electrical stimulation.

Also use Herbal Medicine,
Cupping, Physical therapy,
CBD oils.

What is Korean Medicine?

Korean Medicine(KM) has something in common with Traditional Chinese Medicine(TCM) but KM is different on some points as below.

1. Collaboration of eastern and western medicine.
  - a. Diagnosis in Western Medicine (X-ray, MRI, blood test)
  - b. Treatment in Eastern Medicine (acupuncture, cupping, herbs etc)
2. Evidence-based eastern medicine
3. Quality control for herbs
4. Specialized medicine - weight loss, pediatrics, dermatitis, thyroids, insomnia, TMJ
